

Forming Faith at Home Track (FFH)

In this time of unprecedented challenge, this brief and very doable set of workshops can help parents who won't be able to send their children back to parish-based or school programs in the normal way. It is intended to help parents attune to a more home-focused formation during the coming months at least, if not longer. There is also a couple of workshops for parish leaders trying to find creative ways to help families during this time.

Forming those who form others.
